Fighting Rages Along Syrian, Israeli Border

Both Claim Win In Clash Near Sea of Galilee

TEL AVIA, Israel (UPI) — Syrian and Israeli forces battled on land and in the air near the Sea of Galilee Friday night and early today. Both sides claimed victory.

Jet fighters screamed overhead while troops of the two sides fought bitterly on the ground. No planes were reported downed.

United Nations truce team observers were on the scene and said they were reporting directly to U.N. headquarters in New York. The Israeli government said the Syrians ignored an order from the U.N. truce team to cease fire.

Claim Border Bombed

A Jordanian military spokesman in Amman said Israeli planes early today dropped two bombs on Jordan territory near the Syrian border. The spokesman said Jordan's army commander-in-chief had called in the Syrian military attaché and "informed him that Jordan was prepared to extend any military and against the common enemy," Amman radio said.

The fighting erupted Friday night when an Israeli raiding party attacked a Syrian fortress north of the village of Nugeb on the eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee.

Boat Shelling Charged

Israel charged that the Syrians had shelled Israeli boats on Galilee three times within eight days.

An Israeli army spokesman said Friday night's raid was the first retaliatory action of its kind since January, 1960. He said the fort was demolished after a fierce shelling.

Five Israelis were killed and 10 wounded in the attack, the spokesman said, and it was believed the Syrians lost 30 killed and about 20 wounded. One Syrian officer was captured, he said.

The Syrian army announced in Damascus that an Israeli force, backed by tanks, was beaten back Friday night after an attack on a Syrian outpost.

A Syrian army spokesman said Israeli planes bombed and strafed three Arab villages, but "the Arab-Syrian air force intervened, forced the enemy planes to flee and dominated the sky battle."

The spokesman said four Israeli tanks and eight other vehicles "were left behind" on the battlefield. He gave the Syrian casualties as one killed and five wounded, and said five Israeli buses and five ambulances were seen picking up Israeli dead and wounded.

Strike Hits West Coast Shipping

Three Unions Picket Ports

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Three sea-going unions representing 12,000 men on 120 West Coast vessels Friday night began picketing West Coast ports.

The strike against the Pacific Maritime Association actually had started last Tuesday when members began refusing to sign aboard West Coast vessels.

The walkout already has tied up 25 ships, caused cancellation of the President Wilson's sailing and forced Matson to cancel the Sunday departure of the Lurline and the Monterey with 825 passengers to Hawaii and the South Pacific.

Longshoremen said they would not cross the picket lines to work any vessel.

U.S. District Judge George B. Harris late Friday night issued a temporary restraining order to halt picketing of ships carrying perishable or military cargo. The order would also allow baggage and mail to be removed.

The strike culminated a hectic week of bargaining in which a trio of special federal mediators failed to find any area for settlement between the unions and shipowners concerning a new contract to replace one that expired Oct. 1.

The two sides were reported about $6 million apart on a three-year contract.

The strike idled four ships in Los Angeles Harbor.

The four are the Hawaiian Educator, a Matson Line ship; the F. E. Weyerhaeuser, a cargo ship; the Korean Bear, Pacific Far East Line; and the President Jefferson, a President Line ship.

The Santa Mariana of the Grace Line was diverted to San Francisco.

Angel View Rejects Director's Resignation

Dr. Bingham Quit Over Dispute With Riverside County AMA

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — The Board of Directors of the Angel View Crippled Children's Hospital last night refused to accept the resignation of Dr. Robert Bingham, medical director of the clinic and hospital since 1954.

Dr. Bingham's resignation apparently was tendered as a result of pressure brought by a committee of seven doctors from the consulting staff of Palm Springs Desert Hospital at a meeting the night before with the Angel View executive board.

The Palm Springs doctors, who were not identified by the Angel View board spokesman, said they would work with Angel View if Dr. Bingham, who is not recognized by the Riverside County Chapter of the American Medical Association, would step down as director.

Refuse Service

The Thursday meeting had been called by the Angel View directors to find out why the Palm Springs doctors refused to devote any of their services to the Crippled Children's Hospital or Clinic here.

According to the Angel View officials, they were told it was because Dr. Bingham is not recognized by the Riverside County AMA. He was removed from the group two years ago, reportedly because he was getting too much publicity from his connection with Angel View.

In his letter of resignation, Dr. Bingham wrote that "a group of physicians from Palm Springs has indicated that they will serve on the medical staff of the Angel View Crippled Children's clinic and hospital if one of their own number becomes medical director or chief of staff."

"I am willing to tender my resignation when either of two possibilities has occurred. One, when another doctor has agreed to become medical director and his appointment is approved by a vote of the board of directors, or if an organized medical staff is formed and a chief of staff elected by the doctors and a plan of clinic and hospital operation is presented and approved by a vote of the board of directors."

Springs Man Is Stabbed

A 28-year-old Palm Springs man was severely wounded Friday at the climax of an argument with a woman Palm Springs police reported today.

In Riverside County General Hospital today in serious condition is Earl Hanford, of 4025 Calle Santa Rosa. In custody on a charge of attempted murder was Bessie Mae Lawson, 40, of 430 N. Calle Encilia, Palm Springs.

Hanford was given emergency treatment in Desert Hospital after being stabbed three times in the back, once in the left shoulder, and slashed once over the left eye in the Lawson house and front yard.

Witnesses told officers that Hanford followed the woman out of her house, and collapsed in the front yard and the suspect allegedly stabbed him again while he lay on the ground. A paring knife reportedly used in the stabbings was found in the middle of the street.

State Drops Bribe Charge Against Builder Hal Hayes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Investigation into a charge that a $1 million bribe was offered to a witness by wealthy builder Hal B. Hayes in his $4.6 million suit against the Continental Casualty Co. has been dropped, the district attorney's office said.

Investigators said Friday there was insufficient evidence of the offer to proceed further.

An affidavit was filed last week by a Continental attorney stating that Alvin L. Locke, a co-defendant in the damage suit was offered a bribe to give false testimony. Locke was the chief estimator for the $60 million in military housing projects which Hayes claims in his suit he was forced to abandon because the estimates were so inaccurately low.

In a cross complaint, Continental, which wrote the faithful performance bonds for the projects, is demanding $8.6 million from Hayes for its losses in the projects which the military eventually completed.

None was immediately identified except the bus driver, C. R. Burnell, who was injured. The fatality was in the car which carried four persons. Besides Burnell, there were 19 persons aboard the bus, including 6 military personnel.

The CHP said injuries ranged from minor to serious. The civilian victims were taken to San Bernardino County Hospital.

TWO PRESIDENTS ACT

River Salt Plan Ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Presidents of the United States and Mexico have ordered the International Boundary and Water Commission to recommend within 45 days measures to alleviate a salt problem in the Colorado River, the White House announced Friday.

A White House statement said: "The objective of the two governments is without prejudice to the legal rights of either country, to agree upon and actually put into operation remedial measures within the shortest period of time."

Salinity Solution

The statement reported the presidents of both countries have agreed "that it is urgent to find a mutually satisfactory solution to the salinity problem."

Presumably, the remedial action could be taken on both sides of the International Border.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said that the trouble "is up here," meaning on the United States side, but he later revoked himself to say that he was not an expert on the problem.

U.S. reclamation officials admit that pumping of drainage waters from the Welton-Mohawk Irrigation District in Arizona produces much of the salinity. They maintain that the problem is aggravated by faulty irrigation procedures in Mexico's Mexicali Valley.

Mexicans Protest

U.S. Ambassador to Mexico Thomas Mann has been conferring with Interior Department, State Department and Reclamation Bureau officials for the past week in an effort to find a solution to the problems. It has caused anti-

American demonstrations in Mexicali, and claimed much front-page space in Mexican newspaper for the past several weeks. Mann will return to Mexico today.

Mexico contends that 75,000 acres of wheat in the 300,000 square acres Mexicali Valley are threatened by the salt.

The 45-day deadline set by the Mexican and American chief executives would allow for the initiation of action before the situation becomes critical again in May. This is when Mexico's scheduled allotment of stored upstream water diminishes, causing a subsequent rise in the salinity percentage.

Farm Population

Decline Goes on, Records Show

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's farm population is continuing to decline.

The government reported that about 14,803,000 persons lived on farms in rural areas of the country in 1961, a drop of about 830,000 from 1960.

The joint report by the Census Bureau and the Agriculture Department estimated that about one American in 12 lived on a farm last year.

In 1950 one person in six lived on a farm. However, the sharp drop between those two figures is due in part to a change to a more limited definition of farm population.

Consul Says De Gaulle Building New Tradition

By PEYTON CANARY
Implacable Gen. Charles de Gaulle, tempest-tested premiere of France since 1958, is building a new national tradition of political stability despite recurrent crisis, Rene Millet, French consul-general in Los Angeles, told Palm Springs,

Woman Held Off Ballot

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—An Escondido housewife who filed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination earlier this month was declared ineligible by Henry Deitz, county counsel.
Deitz said Mrs. Aida Goodell Rust, 63, is not a qualified elector because of the type of discharge she received when released from Patton State Hospital in 1957. The discharge listed her as "improved." To be eligible, a candidate must be a qualified elector.
Mrs. Rust said she was running on speech and good government.
Deitz said the registrar of voters would be justified in returning a $800 filing fee to Mrs. Rust because of the ruling.

Papers Praised

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's newspapers were commended Friday for outstanding public service in the battle against tuberculosis through the annual Christmas Seal campaign.

Millet, a professional French diplomat, escaped Germans and Russians after the Vichy surrender to serve in De Gaulle's exiled army. He returned to his Quay d'Orsay post in 1948, after combat and special missions in the war and post-war years.

"France is a very old house — and sometimes, it is easier to build something new than to repair the old one," Millet said. He explained that French government after World War I had been directed by the 600-member Chambre de Deputies, and needed political and economic stability.

Disagreement

"There were as many political beliefs as there were Frenchmen," Millet observed, adding that "eight out of 10 Frenchmen disagreed on the methods needed for modernization of agricultural and industrial production" after the war.

Millet pointed out that the politically passionate French gave an 80 per cent vote of confidence to De Gaulle in the last general elections.

"He stabilized the franc, which had plummeted since 1914 from one of the strongest international currencies to one of the weakest," Millet said. Under France, revitalized by the American Marshall Plan impetus after World War II, the strong European Common Market was organized. The market, due for British adherence in 1963, is envisioned as a market of Atlantic nations, including the United States, Millet said.

With political and economic stability established, De Gaulle has tackled the fight for French standing as a major Western power—and the thorny Algerian problem, Millet said.

Algeria a Problem

"His task in Algeria is to make France realize that Algeria must be freed — and this is roughly comparable to telling your country California must be given back to Mexico," Millet explained. Key to the problem is the fact that France has controlled and developed Algeria since 1842.

"There are fifth generation colonies who know no other home — and there are a million Frenchmen in Algeria. They have deep and understandable fears that when the Moslems get control, they will be deprived of jobs and holdings," Millet said.

The Algerian question, stirred by Moslem and colonial parties alike, vaulted De Gaulle to French leadership after assuming leadership of Algeria in May, 1958. The problem, increasingly acute with the spread of nationalism in former African territories, will be resolved "within six months," Millet predicted.

The veteran diplomat said the Secret Army sought to prevent an agreement, and eventually to put down democratic government in France itself.

"Some of these officers have been fighting continuously since 1940 — they are out of contact, and sincerely believe De Gaulle is giving up part of France, and honor," Millet assessed.

GIRL SCOUTS Susan Short and Sharie Richardson greet Mrs. Lillian Chang after hearing her husband, Dr. Franklin S. Chang tell about China at an International Friendship Day program conducted for Girl Scout and Brownie Troops 370, 291 and 382 at Chang's Inn in North Palm Springs. In charge of the group were Marian Mooney, Rae Horton, Stella Ritchie and Mrs. Bruce Gordon.

Dr. Smeton Named Chief Of 29 Palms Cancer Drive

TWENTYNINE PALMS — Appointment of Dr. Robert Smeton to serve as 29 Palms chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1962 "crusade" for funds was announced by Lee S. Simmonds, branch chairman.

Dr. Smeton, a local dentist and a member of the 29 Palms Rotary club, said that recruitment of business and residential campaign leadership for the April drive is now under way.

"The purposes of our crusade funds include the support of ACS cancer research, education and service to cancer patients," Dr. Smeton declared. He added that personal solicitation provided a "special opportunity also to acquaint the public with the value of regular health check-ups in the early detection of cancer."

During the drive, local volunteers will also distribute lists of cancer's early warning signals as a part of the year-round cancer education activity under the direction of Ed MacPherson, another of

Dr. Smeton said a goal of $1,200 will be sought in the Hi-Desert area during next month's appeal. A total of $1,263 was raised in the 1961 drive. Harris Moore, Security First National Bank, will again serve as "Crusade" treasurer, Dr. Smeton stated.

Volunteers who wish to assist the Crusade in any way may do so by contacting Dr. Smeton at 367-4581 or 367-9182.

Shamrocks are scarcer than shillaghs around Palm Springs, but green is green wherever you find it . . . in palm trees, in money or tingeing the brown flanks of the mountains.

I don't know how they celebrate St. Patrick's Day in Ireland, but let March 17 roll around and Palm Springs goes into jig time, with Irish tenors singing and bands playing "McNamara's Band", and corned beef and cabbage on the plates and green creme de menthe desserts, and often a be-ribboned pig for a door prize. The women find green gowns to wear and the men at least a green tie or a shamrock for their lapels. Wishing wells and blarney stones (all a bit phony) show up in hotel lobbies, and who will ever forget the year to live leprechauns invaded El Mirador?

Thunderbird's annual St. Patrick's Party is always a fun one and reservations show 300 or more expected tonight. There will be fresh green carnations on the tables, poke bonnets and derby hats and clay pipes for table favors. Dinner, begorra, will be corned beef and cabbage with Irish coffee with the dessert, and dancing to the music of Pat Barbara's orchestra.

It's the Luck of the Irish that tonight's the grand opening of the Key Club of the B-Bar-H, introducing the Irish Twist to the of Ken Draper and his orchestra. Additional entertainment will present Helen Cruse, vocalist.

Radiogram type invitations are going out to about 175 friends this week as Rosetta and Bill Leeb get ready for their annual party, which will be held at their Tamarisk Country Club home.

The "ship to shore" message from the good ship "SS Palm Springs Season" sets April 10 as the sailing date and 37-715 Thompson Road as the pier of embarkation, with departure time at 1900 hours. There will be cocktails in the main salon with dinner and dancing on the veranda grill.

Carrying out the theme "Captain Bill Leeb on the Bridge" is asking cruise members to confirm reservations and to come aboard wearing the costume of the country they would most like to visit.

Two orchestras, Bernie Richards and the Caribbean Troupe, have been engaged for the voyage. Louise Durham Nicoletti, who is giving a series of parties, will be entertaining again on March 30, with cocktails at her beautiful hill-top home above Thunderbird, followed by dinner and dancing at the clubhouse. Some 100 guests are being invited for this event which will honor Mr. and Mrs. Francis George of Flint, Mich.

Vicki and Billy Malouf have invitations out for two affairs. On March 30 they will entertain at cocktails at the Committee of Twenty Five clubhouse, honoring their daughter Carol and her husband Fred Johnson and their houseguests the Al Englands, Robert Lawsons, Bert Maloufs and Swedish Consul and Mrs. Walter Daniels.

The second invitation is for their annual Acapulco Party, which is set for April 6. H. H. (Hank) Ridder, who has been seriously ill is now reported off the critical list at Long Beach Memorial Hospital. Bonnie and Hank have been missing from the Palm Springs scene all winter due to ill health.

Anita will fly over to Nassau, too, while she's on the east coast, and will be away several weeks.

Dana Goforth Is Named Girl Of the Month

Dana Goforth, 17-year-old Senior at Palm Springs High School, was chosen "Girl of the Month" for the month of March, for the quality of courteousness. Dana was presented a corsage at the Girl's League Shamrock Drag held in the Pavilion.

This year Dana is a member of the Palm Springs Debs, and lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Goforth, at 66-395 West Third Street in Desert Hot Springs.

Health Officer Gives Talk to Soroptimists

In observance of Public Health Week, Dr. Bertram H. Eckmann, T. B. Control officer for Riverside County Health Department, addressed the Soroptimist Club of Palm Springs.

He said that great strides have been made in conquering tuberculosis since the turn of the century when it was a major problem. Today he rates it among the top 10. He termed it an insidious disease extremely contagious and affects all ages.

Dr. Eckmann also discussed the preventive program of checking the 8000 food handlers in Riverside County.

Twenty three members attended the meeting, with Reta Obleski, sister of Marie Ford, and Estelle Schiller as guests.

City Manager Dan Wagner will be the speaker at next Tuesday's meeting which will be held at Holiday Inn at 12:15 p.m. The meeting will be open to guests.

A REALTOR'S NOTES

by isabelle cameron

WALTER WINCHELL made a "pen-practice" of giving an "Orchid" to those . . . who in his opinion had excelled . . . or accomplished . . . in a given field . . . something of unusual proportion! Such an "orchid" has certainly been earned by the Schuman brothers . . . Their recently announced "ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY MILLION $$$" development . . . in the RANCHO MIRAGE, THUNDERBIRD area . . . IS FANTASTIC! It's only about six years ago that Irwin Schuman toured with me around this area . . . Well do I remember his prophesy and, I quote . . . "Someday, Isabelle, I will do something in this area. It is the tomorrow of the desert" (unquote) . . . Irwin's prophesy was indeed not an idle one . . . His dream is no longer a dream . . . His faith in the "tomorrow" is a FACT of our TODAY. . . .

IN THIS RANCHO MIRAGE, THUNDERBIRD AREA . . . and quite close to the Schuman brothers development we are authorized to present . . . A very fine property . . . located on Country Club Drive . . . The investment is $165,000.00 with excellent terms . . . Full particulars to serious buyers! IN THE SAME GENERAL LOCATION . . . for the investor interested in a small parcel . . . Five acres are available at $27,500.00 . . .

THERE IS A FASCINATION to land . . . A certain intrinsic glamour . . . Whether it be developed in the "fruits of the earth" such as citrus, dates, grapes or cotton . . . or whether it is just plain SAND . . . Pick up some of the SAND let it fall gently through your fingers . . . You will see "specks of tiny gold flakes" . . . and if you love the earth, as we do, you will realize it is truly "GOLD" . . . One must, of course, be practical. Select your "gold" in the directional growth. Who is better qualified to have the "feel" of that directional growth than DON CAMERON, the writer, and our Associated????

WITHIN WALKING DISTANCE OF THE POST OFFICE in Rancho Mirage on a Commercial zoned lot . . . Three units . . . The three units cover just one half of the lot. There is approximately 100' of frontage and it's one of those parcels wherein the land will become very important . . . The full selling price is $24,500.00. True it is not a new building all gussied-up with fancy built-ins but it is an older building with "built-in" charm, of Mexican farmhouse architecture. Nice return on the investment and a real "potential" . . .

ALONG WITH THE SCHUMANS the Cliff Hendersons, & Hank Gorty are those who made the suburbs of PALM SPRINGS . . . the GOLF CAPITAL OF THE WORLD. Synonymous with the "birth of golf" are the names "JOHN DAWSON" and "FRANK BOGART" . . . These two brave and far-sighted chaps started the ball rolling . . . We all know the story . . . Thunderbird Country Club! Johnny, Frank and a group of friends converted the old "Red Roof Ranch" and Thunderbird Ranch into our very first Country Club, with an 18 hole golf course, now surrounded by Estate type homes. This was a FIRST and today there are many many more. GOLF has proven to be a MAGNET and the hereinabove mentioned have the satisfaction of knowing they "brainchild" the whole wonderful development of the FIRST country club . . . FAIRWAY HOMES offer a "way of life" to the golf-minded or those who just enjoy gracious living . . .

ON THE FAIRWAYS of Indian Wells Country Club a delightful contemporary home is available for purchase. Three bedrooms and two baths, a built-in general electric kitchen, five tons of refrigeration air-conditioning. The living-room with corner fireplace and sliding glass doors opens to the pool and deck area which is exceptionally spacious. The view cannot be surpassed. Carpeting and drapes are included and the purchase price is really quite interesting. In an area where most of the homes range from $43,000.00 and up this home is $39,950.00. May we suggest you see it . . . You will be impressed by the value . . .

DESERT BEAUTIFUL is not only the theme but the name of a new organization in the Coachella Valley. Chairman and founder of the group, Mrs. Clifford Henderson, left, shows Palm Springs City Manager Dan Wagner, Mrs. Hal P. Baldwin, vice chairman of Los Angeles Beautiful, and Mayor James O'Brien of Indio, one of the decorated trash containers the organization is recommending to keep the desert beautiful.

Beautification Is Aim of Group

PALM DESERT — A new valley-wide organization has been formed to beautify the area from Palm Springs to Mecca. A kick-off meeting was held here with representatives from every community. When over 100 were present with less than half that number anticipated, the new group which uses the name Desert Beautiful became a very potent reality.

First project of the group has already been achieved. Five trees were planted in the valley during Arbor Day ceremonies over a week ago. Chairman and founder of the group, Mrs. Clifford Henderson, was present at plantings in Palm Springs, Cathedral City, Thousand Palms, Palm Desert, Indio and Coachella.

New project which is taking up much of the attention of the group is to promote a series of "litter cans" in the desert area to help in the cleanliness campaign. A request for opinions at the meeting resulted in enthusiastic commentary from the audience. Suggestions for improvements ranged from heavier fines to more strict enforcement of anti-litter laws.

Speakers at the meeting included Mrs. Virginia Baldwin, vice chairman of Los Angeles Beautiful and advisor to Desert Beautiful; and Mrs. Henriette Cowgill, community coordinator for Los Angeles Beautiful. Both gave examples of the work being done in the metropolitan area.

Palm Springs, Dan Wagner, city manager; Jimmy Cooper, chamber manager; Mrs. Austin G. Musical Tops Season at School

Promising to be one of the musical highlights of the season on the desert is the Palm Springs High School production, "The King And I," scheduled for the auditorium on Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7.

The successful Broadway musical, first produced by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein at the St. James Theatre in New York City, starring Gertrude Lawrence and Yul Brynner, went on to receive high acclaim as a motion picture. Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times referred to "The King And I" as a "beautiful and lovable musical play," and Richard Watts, Jr., of the New York Post, called it "another triumph for the masters."

Lead roles in the high school presentation will be Judy Jorgensen and Tommy Pickell. Both are seniors on the campus; each has had valuable experience in music and Yul Brynner, went on to receive high acclaim as a mo-

Director Hammond reports that rehearsals are moving along well; the exotic costumes, exemplary of the rich splendors of the Far East, have been ordered; and the colorful sets are under construction. Students of the High School will sell advanced tickets for the musical play.

Plans Told for Shopping Center

THOUSAND PALMS — The Property Owners Association met at Mrs. Cloe Vogus' home on Calle Jessica, and had a good turnout of members in spite of the inclement weather. Green sherbet and white cake with green icing were served afterwards in keeping with Saint Patrick.

President Arnett announced that he had information from a reliable source that the new mobile unit with shopping and recreation facilities will soon be started at Kubic and Ramon Roads.

Mrs. George McEwan of Monte Vista is in the hospital at Carlsbad for x-rays and tests.

Another new house is going up in Thousand Palms. Harold F. Harvey is building on Arbol-Real.

A party was given at the Community Church Saturday night for all the adults of the church and community. A good sized crowd had an evening of fun and frivolity with group singing led by Miss Elizabeth Nelson and accompanied by Mrs. Eleanor Lennie and Mrs. Cloe Vogus, and contests and games including paying forfeits and all, led by Mrs. Irene Papp. The evening's fun was capped with the serving of doughnuts and coffee.

It might prove embarrassing to disclose the whereabouts of a small fire which started in a pile of new lumber Wednesday about noon. It was promptly extinguished, however by a prominent member of the chamber of commerce.

While the rest of the crowd could think of nothing to do but to call the fire department next door, Mrs. Mina Welcome seized the shovel to be used in the tree planting ceremonies at the new Community Building and quickly and very efficiently put out the blaze with sand.

And that set me to wondering.

Remember a few years ago when we all had piles of sand setting around in the most inconvenient places in our homes to be used if and when a bomb should explode over us, as per instructions from Civil Defense? You old-timers out here should have struck it rich, sending this loose, pelting and piling stuff back east by the rail full. It's good that you stopped when you did however. — we would be that much closer to red China now, perhaps. Or, how deep down does this sand go, anyway?

Mrs. Elva Woodside of Los Flores spent last week in Los Angeles. While there, she saw her physician, had a series of x-rays taken of her spine and was assured that the fracture of better than a year ago was completely healed.

Mrs. Woodside was associated with the Southern Pacific railroad for 36 years, retiring in 1953. While in Los Angeles this week, she called on the S. P. office, renewed old acquaintances and had her transportation arranged for a six week trip through the East. She plans on meeting a brother, J. Fuller Groom, of Arlington, Va., who is in Ft. Lauderdale Fla., at this time and then travel with him by car up the Atlantic coast.

She will be accompanied by Mrs. Irene Woodside of Los Angeles, in whose home she visited this week. She also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stuber, Mrs. Bessie Groom and George Walker while there.

On Saturday, Mrs. Woodside accompanied her nephew, Al Radant, of Los Angeles, to Thousand Palms. He came for business reasons, and she to complete her plans for travel.

Mrs. Rockefeller Granted Divorce in Reno Court

RENO (UPI) — Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, 54, white-faced and unsmiling, obtained a divorce decree Friday ending her 31-year marriage to the governor of New York.

A complaint charging mental cruelty was filed at 9 a.m. PST, and Mrs. Rockefeller emerged 20 minutes later from the chambers of District Judge Grant Bowen, who granted the divorce.

She was accompanied as she left the judge's chambers by her attorney, her sons, Rodman and Laurence, and Mrs. Harry Drckert, wife of the owner of the Donner Trail Guest Ranch where Mrs. Rockefeller stayed to fulfill the legal residence requirements for Nevada.

They walked wordlessly through a crowd of nearly 50 of photographers, newsreel cameramen and reporters down a flight of steps to the rear of the Washoe County Courthouse. Then they got into

Dodgers Lose to Orioles

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—The great experiments of one spring hardly ever carry over to the next, but Los Angeles Dodger manager Walt Alton appeared today to be giving second thought to an abortive 1961 adventure.

Tommy Davis showed great promise in 1960 as an outfielder, so Alton hoped to keep him in the lineup last year by giving him a shot at third base. Tommy and third base never became good friends, and Davis' hopes for stardom stalled instead of advancing a step or two.

But in Friday night's 9-4 loss to the Baltimore Orioles, Alton had Tommy back on third for the first time this spring. Davis responded with a two-run triple that gave the Dodgers a brief 4-2 lead in the fifth, and made a fine diving stop on a smash by Gus Triandos.

Alton, who sent the Dodgers against the New York Giants today, gave no indication whether this was more than a brief maneuver or a part of his all-out strategy. Daryl Spencer, it could be pointed out, had been hitting only .214 and got a rest from the lineup in the loss.

Rig's Boys Lose Four Straight

TUCSON, Ariz. — Skipper Bill Rigney's band of traveling Angels are certainly taking their lumps as of late, for the fast-starting Los Angeles ball club are nursing a four-straight losing streak today after being clobbered by the Cleveland Indians, 10-2, Friday.

Angels Errors
With the aid of four LA Angel errors, plus a 14-hit spree against three hurlers, the Indians from Cleveland town coasted to an easy triumph.

Gary Bell got credit for the win, and Ken McBride was tagged for the loss.

The way the number of losses are piling up for the Angels, who haven't tasted victory since departing the Polo Grounds at Palm Springs, they should be happy for the day Sunday when their private plane touches down at the city airport and they open a three-day stand in their own back yard.

Monday afternoon they will have a crack at the Chicago Cubs, who knocked 'em off Thursday, 7-3, and then Tuesday and Wednesday the Candlestick boys from San Francisco come into the Polo Grounds for a pair of games. All three games will start at 1:30 p.m. with the ticket office opening at 11 a.m.

Shadow Mtn. Women Plan Golf Tourney

The monthly luncheon meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Shadow Mountain Golf Club was held in the Manzanita Room of the club following golf play in the morning.

Julie Harris, rules chairman, announced that the new rule books for 1962 were available in the golf pro shop and stressed the need for golfers to observe the changes.

The tournament chairman, Helen Seals, outlined the plans for the upcoming Club Championship. Qualifying rounds will be played on Wednesday, March 21 and the first matches will start the following Friday.

Following the luncheon, prizes for the month were awarded by Almere Byerly to the winners, Julie Harris, Betty Ives, Helen Huntington and Velma Blades.

Warriors Win First NBA Playoff

By United Press International
Philadelphia and Detroit led the National Basketball Association sectional semi-final playoffs today because of an old pro and a rookie.

The Warriors took a 1-0 lead over Syracuse in the Eastern Division's best-of-five series Friday night when Paul Arizin scored a season high of 43 points during Philadelphia's 116-103 victory over the Nats.

Ray Scott, a University of Portland star last season, tallied 34 points that enabled the Detroit Pistons to edge the Cincinnati Royals, 123-122, in the opener of their Western Division eliminations.

Wilt Chamberlain, who set nine NBA records during the regular season, took a backseat to the veteran Arizin with 32 points. Larry Costello scored a Syracuse high of 23 points.

Detroit received its best break of the game when Oscar Robertson left the Cincinnati lineup because of fouls with 1:31 remaining in the game. Robertson had tallied 24 points for the Royals up to the time of his departure.

Detroit appeared set for a run-away late in the final period as Scott, Bailey Howell (28 points), Gene Shue (27) and Don Ohl (24) clicked away merrily with field goals.

With a par-shattering field of amateur golfers playing the first 18 of the 54 hole 27th Annual Palm Springs Invitational Golf Championship at O'Donnell Golf Club Friday, Low Bridge and defending champion, George Archer shared the lead with scores of 63.

Earle Strebe, chairman of the Desert Circus golf tournament, and his committee members have announced that a Hole-in-One tournament will be held March 21-25 at the Desert Inn.

A Blind Bogey tournament, between 70 and 80, began today on all golf courses but O'Donnell, according to Zell Eaton, pro at the Municipal Course. Entry fee is $1, and the top prize will be a trip to Las Vegas. Trophies will be given for first and second place winners on all courses. Other prizes will be golf merchandise.

D'Amato to Pick Site For Fight

NEW YORK (UPI)—Floyd Patterson flies to Egypt tonight for exhibitions and, during his 12-day absence, manager Gus D'Amato will begin visiting American cities to pick the best site for Floyd's contracted heavyweight title defense this summer against Sonny Liston.

D'Amato will be accompanied on his visits by promoter Al Bolan, 33-year-old vice-president and general manager of Championship Sports, Inc., which will stage the $6 million fight.

Prior to Friday's contract-signing ceremony, many boxing people had assumed that the ring's richest fight would be held in a New York ball park, although other cities were interested. Those assumptions were quickly squelched during the ceremony when:

—D'Amato unexpectedly announced that he alone would pick the fight city, and Patterson nodded in agreement. D'Amato has neither a manager's license in New York state nor any love for the state Athletic Commission.

—Terms of the contracts disclosed it would be to Patterson's advantage to fight in another city and leave New York open to closed-circuit television since he gets 55 per cent of net television proceeds and 45 per cent of the net live gate.

The fight will be staged between June 18 and Sept. 30. Patterson and D'Amato will announce the exact date and city on or before April 16. And if there's a return bout, it will be scheduled between next Sept. 1 and Sept. 30, 1963.

Golfing with ALEX MORRISON Teacher of Champions

Bill Collins' impact position shows that his clubface travels square to the line before and after striking the ball.

"ROLL 'EM" is a signal used for cameramen. Also it is used by many golfers holding the false notion that there is an advantage in rolling the hands forward when striking the ball.

Every player, without prompting, naturally tends to turn his hands and clubface into a closed position long before impact. This error fits in with many other errors a player makes when performing mainly by instinct.

This premature rolling and closing of the clubface means erratic striking of the ball. The tournament pros do everything they can to avoid this premature rolling. They know that the best striking of the ball is had when the clubface travels square to the desired line of flight for some time before and after the moment of impact.

A mental picture of this squareness can be had by swinging a putter with a very short backswing and follow through.

Eldorado Favored to Win Sunday Polo Tilt

Eldorado is favored to turn back the Red Diamonds of Pomona in their polo match Sunday afternoon at the Eldorado polo grounds in Palm Desert. The six chukkers of action get underway at 2 p.m. in one of the last three matches of the season.

Eldorado will be sending forth a 10 goal team consisting of Peter Hitchcock, Sausalito, number one; Dick Neville, Los Angeles, number two; and a pair of four goals from Palm Desert, Jack Conant at number three, and team captain Bob Smith at Number four. This is the same foursome that turned back Costa Rica, 8-to-7, in the opening match of their three game series.

Riding for the challengers are Steve Pierce, 18-year-old Palm Springs high school senior, at number one; Ken Walker, three goals from Long Beach, number two; Allan Scherer, Long Beach, number three; and team captain Ted Pierce, Covina Highlands, number four. This is the eighth goal team which lost to Costa Rica in the final match of the series, 10-to-8.

despite four goals by young Pierce, Scherer, a four goal player, had three goals, while Walker picked up the other score. The senior Pierce, Steve's father, played well but did not score.

Ted Pierce in issuing the challenge for the match with Eldorado, felt that his team should win, despite two goal difference in the ratings. The match should be interesting to see the action between Eldorado's hard hitters, Conant and Smith, against the Red Diamond's power of Walker and Scherer. Young Steve shows that he can belt the ball with the best and could cause trouble for the locals.

Interview with 'An Horatio Alger'

James Cash Penney in Relaxation Following Coast-to-Coast Tour

By HILLY CRAWFORD

A man who won the Horatio Alger Award of the American Schools and Colleges Association in 1953, and whose picture hangs in every one of the 1,700 retail stores that bear his name, sat in the sunshine on the terrace at the Oasis Hotel reminiscing with his long-time friend and looking like just another pair of c'ones sitting in the desert sun.

The men were James Cash Penney and his friend O.D. Fisher, one of the country's leading banking, insurance and flour milling men, who also has radio and television interests and whose new television station KATU opened in Portland last night.

Both natives of Missouri, they have been friends for 60 years and it was obvious that it has been a warm and enduring friendship. Both have retired as chairmen of the boards of most of their companies, but both are active as directors and influential men in the country they have helped build.

James Cash Penney, who bears the same name as his father and his grandfather before him, and his have been here for ten days relaxing after a strenuous coast-to-coast trip attending 12 conventions celebrating the 60th anniversary of the J. C. Penney stores.

A Store Here?

Asked if the rumor is true that a Penney Store will be opened here in Palm Springs, he countered by saying that 30 new stores are opened every year and that he really didn't know the status for the local project, but that a man had been here investigating conditions. He added that he has been approached by so many people who think Palm Springs needs a moderate priced department store that it seems possible. A new store has just been opened in Anchorage and one for Honolulu is under consideration, he said.

At 87 years of age, J. C. Penney is still the alert-minded business man, goes to his office every day.

Check on Cuban Guantanamo Bay Activity Slated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A congressional subcommittee has started an on-the-spot check of increased Cuban military activity outside the gates of the American Naval base on Guantanamo Bay, it was learned today.

Six members of the House inter-American affairs subcommittee left Thursday night for the Guantanamo Naval Base. They planned to spend most of two days there.

The group planned to meet with the base commanding officer, Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell. Informants said the subcommittee asked O'Donnell to come to Washington but he declined because "the situation was so critical."

Rep. Armistead I. Selden, D-Ala., chairman of the subcommittee, said "it is apparent that the Communist operation in Cuba has entered a new phase."

when he isn't traveling around opening new stores or checking up on old ones. "I never expect to retire," he said.

The Horatio Alger bit of his history stems from the fact that he started his career as a clerk, and opened his first store in Kemmerer, Wyo., in 1902 with a nest egg of $500 plus $1500 which he borrowed. It started in a 25x45 foot room, this business which has grown to a giant industry which last year had a volume sale of a $1,500,000,000 dollars.

Golden Rule

I said that this was something to be proud of, and the man who has made the Golden Rule a way of life, replied, "Humbleness transcends pride, for I see so many mistakes I made."

The history of his life has been told so much more eloquently in his latest book "A View from The Ninth Decade," but maybe it was the peacefulness of the Oasis gardens, sun-drenched and protected by the mountains, that inspired him to a bit of philosophizing.

"So many young men today are in doubt about their future," he said, "and I want to say to them . . . it doesn't take genius to succeed. Any young man of strong character, who is not afraid to work is strictly honest in every way, and who will apply himself assiduously, is bound to succeed in life."

"There are great opportunities for the young man today, greater than I have ever seen them," he added.

Abiding Faith

The merchant financier expressed his abiding faith in the American people but thought the country had veered too far to the left. "Eventually," he said, "we will realize our mistakes and return to a more conservative attitude about things in general."

Fisher has been visiting Palm Springs every winter for 30 or 40 years but this was only the second year for the Penneys. In a way the two men have rendezvoused here the past two years. Only two and a half years apart in age, they have a pact to celebrate their 100th year together in 1975 and they think that might very well be in Palm Springs too.

Death Claims Wonder Palms' Clara U. Shaw

A native of Perry, Iowa, she had been a resident here for four months. She is survived by one son, Dr. Joseph Shaw of Rome, Italy; and three daughters, Mrs. Charles E. Jones of Wonder Palms, Mrs. Mercedes Elmquist of San Marion and Mrs. Fiedlis McKercher of Perry, Iowa.

MERCHANT PRINCE James C. Penney, who owns a chain of 1,700 retail stores throughout America, visits with his friend of 60 years, O. D. Fisher, as they sit in the sunshine on the Hotel Oasis grounds, where they have been vacationing.

Stevenson Labels Cuba Red's 'Newest Satellite'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson has labeled Cuba the Soviet Union's "newest satellite" and said the United States would not compete with Fidel Castro's government in "the technique of the big lie."

Stevenson took the floor in the Security Council to respond to Cuban and Soviet charges that the United States was preparing a new attack on Castro's island. Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Morozov twitted Stevenson as having admitted the truth of the charges by not refuting them.

Stevenson reminded Morozov and Cuban Ambassador Mario Garcia Inchausti that Cuba had convoked the council asking it to request an international court review of the Punta del Este expulsion of the Castro regime from the Organization of American States. The charge of U.S. "Aggression," he said, was not on the agenda.

Stevenson took Garcia to task for charging that the U.S. diplomat "lied" about Cuba.

"I will only say that we do not use such words lightly in this country—which is another happy difference we have with Cuba. Cuba is a faithful pupil of Communist techniques. We shall not compete. In the technique of the big lie, we surrender."

The council was expected to reject Cuba's demand, the sixth effort by Castro's government since July, 1960, to get U.N. action on its political and economic battle with the United States and its other hemispheric neighbors.

Rio Grande Loss Of Citrus High

WESLACO, Tex. (UPI)—The Rio Grande Valley citrus crop, normally near 10 million boxes, probably will total less than 500,000 boxes next year as a result of the severe January freeze, a valley citrus expert said Thursday.

Dr. P. W. Rohrbach, director of the Texas A&M College Citrus Center said not more than half of the estimated 7 million citrus trees in the lower valley will bear fruit next year.

The 500,000 boxes "is probably more than we can expect" next year, Rohrbach said.

TV in Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It is a coincidence, of course, that Thursday night's "Dr. Kildare" Show NBC-TV told of a hard-drinking Irish poet who flees a hospital for a pub — the exact same thing that boozing playwright Brendan Behan did six days ago in Dublin.

Only the most cynical of men would think there was a connection between the two events; or stress the fact that actor Dan O'Herlihy, who portrayed the poet, was, according to his press agent, a boyhood friend of Behan in Dublin.

The press agent pleads innocence, while over at NBC informed sources report that the whole thing is unquestionably a St. Patrick's Day miracle. And on this eve of St. Paddy's Day, who would deny that?

The show, titled "The Roaring Boy-O," got off to a rousing start with a first-class barroom brawl begun by O'Herlihy, who played his part with the assurance of a man who had been there before.

Goes To Hospital
After the brawl was over O'Herlihy wound up in Kildare's hospital. There, so the audience would have little doubt about whom his character was modeled after, he was described as a writer whose wild exploits had been in newspapers across the country.

All that the poet wants is a drink.

CONVICTION UPHELD
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today upheld the conviction of Mrs. Sally T. Hucks for conspiring to destroy records of calls made by Teamsters union officials at a hotel here.

Mrs. Hucks was chief operator of the hotel switchboard when the Senate rackets committee subpoenaed records of calls.

Newsboys Head for Disneyland

A group of Desert Sun newsboys will thrill to the five lands of the Magic Kingdom of Disneyland tomorrow as winners of a competition for new subscribers.

Robert J. Powers, assistant circulation manager for the Sun, and John Clark, district manager for the Cathedral City - Palm Desert area, and their wives, will supervise the youngsters.

Included in the group of 19 youngsters are Willie Joe Goree, Jerry Siggins, Dana Hollinger, Andrew Hollinger, John Ellis, Girard Hurley, Robert Marinko, Joseph Marinko, Laurance McFarland.

Randy Naylor, Brad Hopkins, John Riordan, Bill Raymond, Michael Kirk, Dennis Dickson and his brother, Donald Whitfield, Robert Frost and a newsboy from Twentynine Palms.

One of the five lands of Disneyland which is expected to intrigue the desert youngsters is the Land of Tomorrow which reflects the land of the future when this newer generation group gets a preview of their grown-up world.

The land of the future is located under the shadow of the Matterhorn, with flying saucers, submarines, jet and rocket ships speeding above and beneath the earth. Overhead a sleek monorail slips quietly along its concrete "highway in the sky," carrying passengers between the Park and Disneyland Hotel, a 2½ mile circuit alongside and across city streets.

Leaving this land of modern science, one enters a different realm of imagination. Fantasyland is a world of dreams and fairy tales, projected from storybooks and Walt Disney's motion picture classics, all brought to the reality of life.

On walking across the drawbridge and entering Sleeping Beauty's Castle, the visitor finds himself in a wonderland of dreams. Dumbo, the Flying Elephant and the Cops and Saucers of the Mad Tea Party furnish adventures of fantasy. Here one can take a flight with Peter Pan, ride the Casey Jr. Circus Train and journey through Storybook Land on a Canal boat.

Jobless Drop

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department reported Friday that the number of workers applying for jobless benefits fell by 59,000 to 2,396,700 during the week ending March 3.

NO ONE REALLY UNDERSTANDS ABBREVIATIONS

Many people ask us to abbreviate words for them in our Want Ad columns, and most of the time we try to discourage them from doing so.

Our reasoning is simply this: studies of advertising prove that up to 49% of the readers fail to comprehend even the most common abbreviations in some ads.

This only means one thing, and that is that in order to get every nickel's worth out of your advertising dollar you must spell out your proposition in words everyone can understand. It just isn't smart to eliminate a large percentage of your readership through use of abbreviations.

This is National Want Ad Week, and we at The Desert Sun invite you to take advantage of the many offers advertised in today's Want Ad pages. Prove to yourself that the ads you prefer to read are those which are not abbreviated and which have a price included.

If you find this to be true, then we know we have proven our point, and when you place your next Want Ad it will be one which every reader can easily understand.

DISNEYLAND, a world of its own, treats its visitors to five lands, one of the Land of Tomorrow under the shadow of Matterhorn. In this land of the future, sleek monorail cars speed across "highways in the sky" to bring the visitor to space ships, fairyland, jungles, and the Main Street of yesterday.

Lenten Message

By The Rev. H. John Murchie
Pastor, First Baptist Church,
Woburn, Mass.
Written For United Press International

The central message of Lent is the truth of the gospel, namely, the good news of the divine victory in the cross. God has overcome for man what man could not overcome for himself.

The victory of the cross opened new possibilities for mankind. Life became touched with forgiveness and healing. New life came into the old order of society. Every promise of life felt the force of fulfillment in the Christ who has out-lived the cross. The power and presence of that life is available for man.

We would like to have things different. We want a better world. We want the gifts of life for ourselves and loved ones. But it involves too much self-discipline. It means repentance and obedience and we are not ready for all that. It is easier to change our surroundings than it is to become a changed self.

But if the meaning of life is to come into clear focus during this season, the spirit of man must experience the spirit of Him who mastered the cross. Man needs to be disciplined, guided and made strong at the center of his being. If any man will humbly seek God with an open heart, Lent will become the spring-time of renewed life.

Geraldine Doesn't Worry About Winning an Oscar

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Geraldine Page has appeared in two movies, winning Academy Award nominations both times. She is battling a thousand in that department.

But her percentage for winning Oscars is zero.

Miss Page, a rather unspectacular looking star compared to the glamor girls who crowd the nation's screens, has an opportunity next month to change her luck when Academy Award time rolls around.

Rarely In Films

In 1953 Miss Page was nominated for her performance in "Hondo." She lost out to Audrey Hepburn, who also is in the running this year. Geraldine's hopes this year ride on her role in "Summer and Smoke" which was made nine years after her only previous movie appearance.

That's a long time between pictures, but Geraldine is unperturbed. She isn't in a hurry to make a third movie.

Her feckled face was filled with hope when she said, "I think I'd just die if I won the Oscar," she said in her Beverly Hills hotel room.

"If I did it would be just a fluke accident."

At 37, Geraldine, a native of Kirksville, Mo., appears to be uneasy in Hollywood. She acted in some 400 plays in New York and feels more at home there. Some of her theater roles amounted to a single performance, others such as "The Rainmaker" and "Sweet Bird of Youth" enjoyed long runs. Though she has won the Drama

Critics' Award, success came with painful slowness to the actress. "I recall stopping my rounds of the producers' offices in New York," she said, recalling the lean days. "My special talent for not being noticed made it a waste of time."

Compared to the curvesome cuties who haunted booking offices Geraldine, who stood 5 feet 8, possessed modest measurements.

She worked as a 'hatcheck girl, theater usher, saleswoman in a book shop and a cone wrapper in a thread factory. But Geraldine stuffed through years of unrewarding work before coming into her own on Broadway in "Mid-Summer" in 1953.

It was an off-Broadway production of "Summer and Smoke," however that brought Geraldine to the attention of big time producers.

"I played the role for four months at the Circle in the Square," she recalled.

"That experience was invaluable to me in playing the same part of Alma Winemiller in the movie version for Hal Wallis. It was a tremendous advantage for me."

"Most actors have a difficult time performing in a scene that is filmed out of sequence, but because I had played the part before there was a feeling of continuity for me."

"It was 10 years between the stage version I did and the movie," Geraldine concluded. "but Alma was a character an actress will always remember."

SPEAKING before members of the Desert Dinner Club at the Palm Springs Riviera March 30 will be Philip W. Whitcomb, now living in Paris and said to be one of the best informed newsmen now in Europe. Now with MacNair's European News Service, Whitcomb has served as a foreign correspondent since the German invasion of France in World War II.

AID STILL WITHHELD

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. financial aid to Laos is still being held up pending progress in negotiations for a coalition government, according to the State Department.

A spokesman said Friday he presumed the delay funds include February and March payments. These payments would have totaled $6 million.

Kildare Was Better Than Casey

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—As I understand television ratings, which is hardly at all, Ben Casey, the surly surgeon, has a slight edge over young Dr. Kildare, the everlast intern.

This may reflect their relative popularity with the medically oriented audience, but I question whether it is a reliable measurement of their skills as physicians.

As the saying goes, I don't know much about medicine, but I know what I like. And instinct tells me that Kildare is a better sawbones than Casey.

I realize, of course, that Kildare is only an interne, whereas Casey is a chief resident. Nevertheless, Kildare is the more experienced.

Kildare has been interning for as long as you and I and Lew Ayres can remember. He has ministered to the lame, the halt weakness, and the infirm not only on television but on radio and in the movies.

Casey, on the other hand, has never operated anywhere but on television, which is sick enough in its way but simply doesn't provide the variety of cases that a medico gets in the other media.

There are some who say the fact that Kildare has never advanced beyond his internship indicates a limited capacity. Bosh!

Put them both in the same ward and I'll bet you the price of a new bedpan that Kildare could spot Casey two tracheotomies and an encephalograph and still beat him to the nearest pretty nurse.

By divorcing myself from the pain and suffering, and observing him in a cool, detached manner, I think I have found Casey's

His scowling countenance, which seems to reek self-confidence, is really a cover-up for incompetence. The patients are willing to risk of having him remove the wrong brain lobe because it feels so good when he smiles.

Moreover, Casey is freed from Kildare's handicap of always having crotchety old Dr. Gillespie peering over his shoulder and criticizing every move he makes.

If Gillespie moved to the other program, Casey wouldn't last two weeks. He is too temperamental to work under a superior who scowls more than he does.

I suspect that down deep Gillespie is jealous of Kildare and has deliberately kept him an interne all these years to avoid competition.

Get Gillespie off his neck and I feel certain that Kildare would soon be television's ranking M.D.
